Statement of Intent

The Community Inclusive Trust works to develop good professional relationships between colleagues; however, we understand that sometimes conflicts may arise. Through maintaining open communication, we want our employees to feel able to raise any grievances so that appropriate and effective solutions can be put in place.

This policy should be used for work-related issues such as concerns over working environments or a colleague's behaviour. Grievances relating to discrimination are also covered within this policy.

By implementing and following the procedures in this policy, the Trust aims to:

- Provide a platform for grievances to be processed and handled fairly, consistently and without unreasonable delay
- Constructively resolve grievances in a way that avoids damaging professional relationships
- Enable any employee to have their grievances heard and addressed
- Encourage a harmonious working environment

This procedure applies to employees of CIT only.

This policy does not form part of any employee's contract of employment and it may be amended at any time. It does however set out the CIT's current practices and all employees are strongly advised to familiarise themselves with its content.

conducted under this procedure.

5.2 Breaches of confidentiality may be investigated under the Trust Disciplinary Policy.

5.3 All records of action taken under the grievance procedure will be handled and retained in line with the Trust's Data Protection Policy.

6. Raising Grievances Informally

6.1 Most grievances can be resolved quickly and informally through discussions between an employee and their line manager. If an employee feels unable to speak to their line manager, or if the complaint directly concerns the line manager, then the employee should speak to a member of the Senior Leadership Team, the Head Teacher or a member of the Executive Leadership Team.

6.2 A line manager may be required to conduct some informal investigations to establish the facts of the grievance and help reach a successful outcome. Clear and concise notes of any meetings held or investigations should be made and shared with the employee.

6.3 If it is not possible to successfully resolve the grievance informally then an employee can submit a formal written grievance.

7. Formal Written Grievances

7.1 All school employees should submit a formal grievance in writing to their Head Teacher. If the grievance concerns their Head Teacher the employee should submit the grievance directly to the Director of HR. Members of the central team should submit a formal written grievance to the Director of HR. If the Grievance concerns the Director of HR the employee should submit the grievance directly to the CEO.

7.2 The written grievance should contain the full details of the nature of the complaint, including any relevant facts, dates, and names of individuals involved.

7.3 Grievances should be raised within four months of the incident that lead to the grievance. If employees wish to raise a grievance outside of this timeframe, additional supporting information may be required, e.g. why it took so long to raise the grievance.

8. Grievance Meetings

8.1 Upon receipt of a formal written grievance a Grievance Manager will be appointed to oversee the case. HR and the Executive Leadership Team will decide on an appropriate Grievance Manager to conduct each case taking into account the nature of the complaint and any person/s to whom the complaint relates.

8.2 The Grievance Manager will arrange a grievance meeting, normally within 10 working days of receiving the written grievance. The purpose of a grievance meeting is to enable the employee to explain their grievance and how they believe it should be resolved, and to assist the Grievance Manager to reach a decision based on the available evidence and the representations made.

8.3 All employees have the right to be accompanied by an appropriate work colleague or an accredited trade union official at a grievance meeting and must receive at least 5 working days' notice.

8.4 In some cases, additional information may be required from the employee to clarify the complaint before the grievance process can continue. In these cases, the Grievance Manager will arrange an initial informal meeting. Although this is not a formal meeting the employee may be accompanied by an appropriate work colleague or an accredited trade union official.

9. Grievance Investigations

9.1 It may be necessary to carry out investigations into a grievance to fully understand the nature of the complaint. The investigation may be initiated prior to a grievance meeting being held. In these circumstances, employees will be informed in writing.

9.2 In some cases, a grievance meeting may be adjourned to allow for additional investigations to be undertaken.

9.3 If an investigation is necessary, the amount of any investigation required will depend on the nature of the allegations and will vary from case to case. The investigation may involve interviewing and taking statements from the employee and any witnesses, and/or reviewing relevant documents. Employees must co-operate fully and promptly in any investigation. This may include informing us of the names of any relevant witnesses, disclosing any relevant documents to and attending interviews, as part of the investigation.

9.4 An investigation may be carried out by the Grievance Manager or, in very complex cases, an Investigating Manager may be appointed by HR and the ELT.

10. Grievance Outcome

10.1 Following the conclusion of the grievance meeting the outcome will be confirmed to the employee in writing by the Grievance Manager along with any appropriate further action required to resolve the grievance. The outcome will also set out the employee's right to appeal.

10.2 In some cases, a further meeting may be held to explain the outcome in more detail.

10.3 The possible outcomes of the grievance meeting are:

- Grievance Found – the panel uphold the full grievance and this will also include the details of appropriate actions to be taken.
- Grievance Partially Found – the panel uphold part of the grievance and will include the details of appropriate actions to be taken.
- Grievance Rejected – The panel do not uphold the grievance and the reasons why will be confirmed.
- Adjourned – The panel may adjourn the meeting for additional investigation to be conducted.

11. Appeals

It must clearly state the reasons as to the basis of the appeal. The appeal should be sent to the person indicated on the outcome letter.
